

Sainsmart module has LED connected directly to opto-transistor output. The TCST103 module is not able to supply the current for the red LED, as the maximum current is 4mA @ 20mA forward current on the infrared LED. The transistor is driving the LED, so when the light is interrupted, the LED lights up.